GERMAN LOSSES ARE HEAVY AS THEY POUND ALLY LINE

Local Boche Attacks Are Repulsed at Many Points on Offensive Front

FRENCH INFANTRY AND TANKS REGAIN GROUND

U. S. Forces Effective; Our Machine Guns 'Get' Over Thousand of Enemy

PARIS, June 5.—The Germans continue to pound at the Allied defenses on the western portion of the Marne battle front but are held at all points, the French war office announced today.

Particularly violent enemy attacks were directed at the village of Chezy, south of the Ourcq (near where an American unit re-captured Neuilly), but they were all stopped with heavy boche losses. The fighting on the southern and eastern portions of the battle front was confined to artillery activity.

Local attacks continued yesterday evening and last night along the northern outskirts of Carlepont (five miles south of Noyon). Two German attacks were stopped by French machine guns in the Autrech region (three miles north of the Aisne). Other attempts failed east of Domiers (six miles southwest of Soissons) and toward Corcy (five miles south of Domiers).

North of Corcy French infantry attacks with tanks enabled them to rectify their positions at Villers-Coterets.

South of the Ourcq violent German attacks west of Chezy (two miles of Noyon) were broken up with heavy losses.

Active cannonading was under way north of the Aisne and in the neighborhood of Rheims.

BOTH ARMIES THROW IN FRESH TROOPS

PARIS, June 5.—The intervention of American forces in the new battle of the Marne has been most effective. Their feat in throwing the enemy back near Potiere wood has proven the Allied reserves are of the first quality.

Although the impetus of the German drive has been stopped, the battle has not yet reached its full development. Fresh troops are expected to be thrown in by both sides.

The situation is much better. Villages have been lost and re-taken, with the gains about equal. The enemy has been unable to progress between the Oise and the Aisne, nor between the Ourcq and the Marne, where he is trying to push toward Meaux (21 miles from Paris).

Before the Germans can continue their drive toward Paris they must take Villers-Coterets forest (about midway between Soissons and Chateau-Thierry). They have attempted this unsuccessfully for the last three days, despite heavy reinforcements.

(Villers-Coterets forest extends from a point about six miles southwest of Soissons to a point about 15 miles northwest of Chateau-Thierry. From those points it extends westward for about ten miles. The battle line extends all along the eastern edge of the forest from Troesnes northward past Soissons.)

The French line passing through Chaudun (5 miles south and west of Soissons) has been brought back about three kilometers (about one and three-quarter miles) to the northeastern edge of the Villers-Coterets forest. This has greatly improved the French positions here, suppressing a sharp salient.

Three German armies on the roads to Paris—down the valleys of the Aisne, Ourcq and Marne—are now blocked, temporarily at least. The Allies are holding solid positions along these roads and there is every reason to believe that the blockade may be permanent.

ENEMY LEAVES PRISONERS AS RAID IS REPULSED

LONDON, June 5.—"An attempted enemy raid south of Morlancourt (between the Ancre and the Somme) under cover of a heavy bombardment was repulsed, the enemy leaving prisoners behind," Field Marshal Haig reported today.

Further it is noted that under the military agreement Japan is given control of the Chinese railways, shipyards and arsenals.

NO FIGHT ON GOMPERTS

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 5.—Samuel Gompergs probably will be re-elected president of the American Federation of Labor with less opposition than usual, at the annual convention of the Federation, which opens here next Monday.

This is the opinion of the majority of delegates who have arrived for the preliminary departmental conventions, which began today.

There is a fight on Gompergs every year, but the leader's stand on the war and his public utterances in favor of labor's backing up the government to the limit of its ability are said to have strengthened his position this year.

21-YEAR-OLDS TO BE IN CAMP BY OCTOBER

U. S. TROOPS ON MARNE TRAIN FOR ADVANCE TO RHINE

Americans Now Are Undergoing Final Phase of War Drill, Offensive Later

By J. W. T. MASON (United Press War Expert)

NEW YORK, June 5.—The entry of Americans into the fighting along the Marne means the military situation facing General Foch now presents less cause for uneasiness than at any time since the German offensive began, ten weeks ago.

General Foch's use of his American reserves would not occur at this stage of the battle except for the fact that Von Hindenburg's own reserves are rapidly being exhausted. It is now possible for Americans to be sent into the struggle along the Marne without danger that Von Hindenburg is overreaching General Foch in ultimate strategy. The Americans are now to undergo the final phase of their original training before they are ready for full offensive warfare on their own initiative.

It is at least safe for General Foch to use the Americans for this purpose because Von Hindenburg's large reserve forces have been seriously depleted, both by casualties and by the extension of the German front. There is no present danger of an overwhelming mass of German reserves being hurled against a vital sector of the allies' front. The Americans, therefore, by entering the struggle are not weakening General Foch's own reserve strength disproportionately to the Germans.

The training which the Americans will receive along the Marne front will be perfectly adapted for their march to the Rhine. The Marne front is the first sector where General Foch must exert all possible strength to move the Germans back a short distance. Until this is done, the Marne railway, running from Paris into the American sector in eastern France, will not be available for use. In reality, therefore, the Americans are entering the present battle to wrest back from the Huns one of their own principal lines of communication.

The new battle of the Marne thus may well be considered as the forerunner of America's own offensive, which is destined to carry the war ultimately into German territory. What the Americans now learn of German fighting methods along the Marne will be the final lessons they will need to carry the Stars and Stripes into Metz and across Lorraine for democracy and freedom.

16 PERISH AS LIFEBOAT OVERTURNED IN STORM; 16 OTHERS UNACCOUNTED FOR

156 Passengers, 94 of Crew of Sunken Liner Reach New York on Schooner Eva B. Douglass; Some Are Near Collapse; Young Woman Crazy After Night of Storm Clings to Body of Fiance; Lifeboats Scattered During Gale; Passengers Sang "Star Spangled Banner" As They Took to Boats.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Bringing stories of Prussian piracy at America's very gates, the weather-beaten schooner Eva B. Douglass slipped through the fog into New York harbor today with 250 survivors of the liner Carolina, submerged off Cape May.

There were 156 passengers and 94 of the crew aboard, including Captain Barbour and ten army officers from the military training school at San Juan, Porto Rico.

The schooner came in towed by a tug and with "U. S. Patrol Boat 507" alongside to protect it against German raiders which might even have attacked the rescue ship.

Hoarse sirens rumbled a greeting to the steamer as it passed the submarine net at the Narrows and proceeded slowly up the bay. Men and women who had had the courage to sing the "Star-Spangled Banner" as the U-boat shelled the Carolina lined the Brooklyn dock, where automobiles were ready, driven by volunteers of the Women's Motor Corps. Red Cross workers took immediate charge of the survivors and hurried them to hospitals and hotels. Some of the weaker ones were near collapse from the effects of their experiences Sunday night when a thunderstorm came up and drenched the figures huddling in the lifeboats. It was in this storm that one boat overturned and only nineteen of its thirty-five occupants survived. The rest were swept away and perished.

Those landed here today were found in their open boats drifting off Barnegat after a night at the mercy of the sea. All of the Carolina's complement is now believed accounted for except the sixteen lost in the storm and sixteen more who have not yet been checked up.

E. W. Nogel, 19, of Patterson, N. J., wireless operator aboard the Carolina, told a most graphic story of the submarine raid.

"At about half past 5 o'clock Sunday night," he said, "we received a wireless from the schooner Isabelle B. Wiley saying, 'S. O. S. We're being shelled by a submarine.' I knew by the strength of the signals the attack was close at hand and told the captain so. At that time we were about 50 miles off Cape May, N. J. The captain changed his course and began to zigzag while the passengers were at dinner."

"At about 6 o'clock while in the dining cabin I heard a shot. I went to the wireless room and started my calls, for I knew what had happened. First I flashed, 'S. O. S. Steamer Carolina being gunned by German submarine.'"

"Cape May answered but then the German submarine wireless operator broke in. His instrument was tuned for a radius of only a few miles, so he could talk to ships he was after and not be overheard ashore. The submarine said, 'You don't use wireless; we don't shoot.'"

"Then I repeated the S. O. S. and the Brooklyn navy yard answered. The submarine repeated its warning. I told him we were stopping, then tried to S. O. S. again, but the minute I touched the key the Germans fired at us. I tried repeatedly but each time just the minute they caught my wireless on that submarine they sent another shot at us. Both Brooklyn and Cape May asked our position but the captain ordered me not to try to talk any more as he was afraid the Germans would kill the women aboard with their gunfire."

"Before we left I destroyed the naval code book, then put our papers in a silver pitcher and dropped them overboard. The captain ordered us all outside. It took about 15 minutes to get all hands into the ten lifeboats. We had plenty of boats."

Many of the survivors were without proper clothing and some were unable to talk about the submarine attack without symptoms of hysterics. The military men aboard gave the clearest accounts.

Because of the crowded condition of the schooner scores were obliged to sleep on deck. Worn and exhausted though they were, a little group managed to raise a feeble cheer when they saw the waterfront buildings looming vaguely through the early morning mist."

"It was about 6 o'clock when we heard the first shot," said Lieutenant J. P. O'Toole, U. S. A. "At first we thought it was an American patrol boat. But it soon convinced us otherwise. A shot went over the bow, then one screamed clear over the ship, another hit in the wake and a fourth fell

AMERICANS BLOW UP BRIDGE IN HAIL OF HUN SHRAPNEL

Are Driven Out of Village, Then Rally and Drive Germans Back a Mile

MACHINE GUN TRUCKS PLAY IMPORTANT ROLE

Enemy Troops Are Massed at Metz; Artillery May Herald a New Offensive

WITH AMERICANS IN FRANCE, June 5.—The Americans opposing the German drive between the Ourcq and the Marne, after repulsing three attacks, were driven out of the village of Nully by a fourth thrust Monday afternoon, but before the Huns could consolidate their positions, the Americans swept forward in a brilliant counter attack, hurling the Germans out of the village and driving them back nearly a mile.

The Americans operating with the French on the Marne threw back a German infantry battalion, which had forced the first passage of the river. As the Huns retreated across the bridge, the enemy artillery violently bombarded the bridge with shrapnel. Despite this barrage, American engineers walked out on the bridge, placed explosive charges near its center, and then blew up the bridge, preventing another enemy crossing.

American machine gunners, rushed into the battle on motor trucks, effectively covered the operation of the combined French and American forces at this point.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Sixty Austrian divisions are massed at three points on the Italian front, a dispatch to the Italian embassy today stated.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN LORRAINE, June 5.—Artillery operations are active in Metz. Many troops are moving in that section.

It is reported Austrian troops are arriving at Metz from the neighborhood of the Rhine. Airplanes are numerous.

The artillery may indicate an offensive here to force withdrawal of American troops from the Marne front.

YANKEE GUNNERS REAP HARVEST OF HUN DEAD

BY HENRY WOOD (United Press Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES ON THE MARNE, June 5.—American machine gunners killed at least 1000 Germans in Chateau-Thierry, it was estimated today by French military authorities.

The Yankee gunners, during the battle for the city, fired tens of thousands of machine gun bullets into the place. The city's streets are filled with German bodies.

In the repulse of the Germans by Franco-American forces at Joulgonne the enemy attacked three times before the bridge was finally blown up by an American detachment.

TRY TO FORCE A DECISION IN WEST

LONDON, June 5.—"The Germans, relieved of the pressure on the eastern front as a result of the collapse of Russia, are desperately endeavoring to force a decision on the west front before America's full strength is thrown into the struggle," says a statement issued at the sixth session of the Allied Supreme War Council.

"The enemy has gained some initial advantages and will probably renew the attacks."

"Thanks to President Wilson, arrangements were made two months ago for the transportation and brigading of American troops, which will make it impossible for the enemy to gain a victory by wearing out the Allied reserves before he has exhausted his own."

HOSPITALITY OF HOLD SHIPYARD PEOPLE BRINGS BACK SPIRIT OF BOYS WORKER FOR PROBE AS ENEMY

Col. Webb Publicly Expresses Appreciation of Courtesies Extended Regiment

"The subject uppermost in my mind at this time, and I expect it is the same in your mind, is what we think of the people of Santa Ana. When we left Camp Kearny last Wednesday we were discouraged, because our regiment had been broken up and half of it taken away. We came through the beach towns for the purpose of building up the spirits of our boys, and everywhere we were accorded wholehearted receptions. The climax was reached last night, when the hospitable people of Santa Ana threw their homes open to the regiment and took every member into their homes for an evening of entertainment. There is nothing that you could have done to bring back the spirit of the boys than that which you did last night, and in behalf of my men I extend our most cordial thanks."

Col. Webb, in command of the 145th artillery, thus publicly expressed his appreciation of the courtesies extended his command last night by the people of this city. His expression came at the noon luncheon today of the Chamber of Commerce at James', following the introduction of the staff officers by R. L. Bisby.

For the first time in the history of the business men's luncheons, army and navy men were in attendance and participated in the pleasures of the luncheon. The representatives of the army were the staff of the 145th and the navy was represented by the baseball team from the navy at San Pedro, which came here to cross bats with the army team at the high school diamond this afternoon.

The staff officers were Col. Webb, Major Bourne, Major Thomas, Major Christopherson, Captain Clauson and Captain Ward. The navy boys were John Bender, M. B. McMurdo, C. A. Byler, H. Predd, N. H. DeMaggio, T. R. Rader, Robt. Monsel, Bert Whaling, C. L. Billman, T. K. McFarland and G. A. Harris.

R. L. Bisby stated that he hoped those who were disappointed in not having the privilege of entertaining one or more of the soldiers last evening would not blame Col. Webb nor the committee. The camp was stripped of men, and there were no more to be had. Some of the division was called back by the government before this city was reached. Bisby expressed his appreciation of the hearty cooperation of the people of the city with the committee in entertaining the soldiers. He was proud of the manner in which the citizens took the regiment and adopted the boys to their hearts.

Dr. Shedd Speaks

W. B. Tedford of the First National Bank was the chairman of the luncheon and the speaker of the day was Prof. Shedd of Occidental College. Dr. Shedd talked on the Armenian situation and said that a dollar given at this time to the cause would be equal to $1000 later on. He told of the patriotic spirit of boys in the college and the difficulty experienced in holding them to their studies and keeping them from enlisting before the government really called for them.

He recapitulated some of the horrors of the massacre of Armenians by the Turks, and which, he maintained, was done largely at the instance of the German authorities.

"For forty years the Germans planned to loop the world and for twenty years have had propagandists in all parts of the world preparing for the general scheme of world conquest," declared the speaker.

He paid tribute to American missionaries and the handful of Armenian soldiers who are holding what he termed the eastern front against invasion by the German hordes, and said that the morale of the soldiers and people is being kept up by the Americans.

"The morale of the people is one of the most important things to the success of the war," said Dr. Shedd. "Suppose the appearance of the U-boats on the Atlantic had thrown the people of the United States into a panic—wouldn't it have been great for the Germans? But it didn't, and the morale of our people would not be broken were the boats to sink our ships right and left. We would continue this war whether our ships were wrecked or not, and we must and will fight on until peace, insuring the freedom of the peoples of all the world, is assured."

Assistant Superintendent of Long Beach Plant Charged As German Alien

LONG BEACH, June 5.—Fred Winkmann, assistant superintendent at the Long Beach Shipbuilding Company's yard, is in the city jail today awaiting Federal investigation, while rumors of serious charges regarding his connection with the construction of ships being investigated by the American Protective League and authorities.

Winkmann is held on a charge of failure to register as an enemy alien, which itself would bar him from any place where shipping is being built. Winkmann's wife insists he is a native of England, but the league declares his first citizenship declaration states he was born at Cologne.

The main charge being given attention by the league, however, is that Winkmann has been heard to state that the ships built at the Long Beach plant would never get across the Atlantic. The fact that the steamer Silverado, launched at the shipyard recently, nearly met disaster by breaking down in mid-ocean, has not as yet been connected with the alleged statements by Winkmann.

Winkmann has been watched for several weeks, say league officials. Papers stating he was born in Cologne and indicating an interest in German affairs, are declared to have been found by the league hidden in a stocking covered by a pile of waste at the Winkmann home.

THIEVING GANG IS BELIEVED BROKEN UP

Search of Burglar's House Reveals Number of Articles Thought Stolen

A thieves' gang which has been committing burglaries in this locality and getting rid of the loot in Los Angeles is believed by the police to have been broken up by the arrest Monday night of Rafael F. Arias, who was found in William Pilcher's shoe shop by Officers Barnett and Joe Ryan and who was shot in the hip by Barnett when he attempted to escape.

City Marshal Jernigan secured a search warrant and went through the Arias house on East First street. Under a bed in the house was found a buffalo robe, two tents, an umbrella and a large number of automobile tools.

The man is at the county hospital, where he is recovering from the bullet wound inflicted by Officer Barnett's shot.

City Marshal Jernigan thinks Arias is one of a gang which has been committing petty thefts and taking the loot to Los Angeles.

MORE THAN 100 WAR GARDENS PLANTED BY PUPILS

They Eat What They Can, Then Sell the Rest of Produce, Buy Thrift Stamps

More than 100 boys of the Intermediate school have planted war gardens on their home lots and on vacant lots, and there was not a failure reported by A. M. Davis, manual training instructor, under whose supervision the garden work has been done. Every evening after school, the teacher makes trips of inspection on his trusty bicycle and the boys are given credit for their labors in their regular school work.

The produce is of the finest quality, and what the boys do not use for their home tables they sell to the neighbors and buy Thrift Stamps with the proceeds.

A plot of three acres on the Lincoln school grounds has just been planted to lima beans by the Boy Scouts of the school, and the money which the crop brings will be spent for Thrift Stamps and for other war activities. Mr. Davis has made arrangements with some of the fathers to look after the work during the summer.

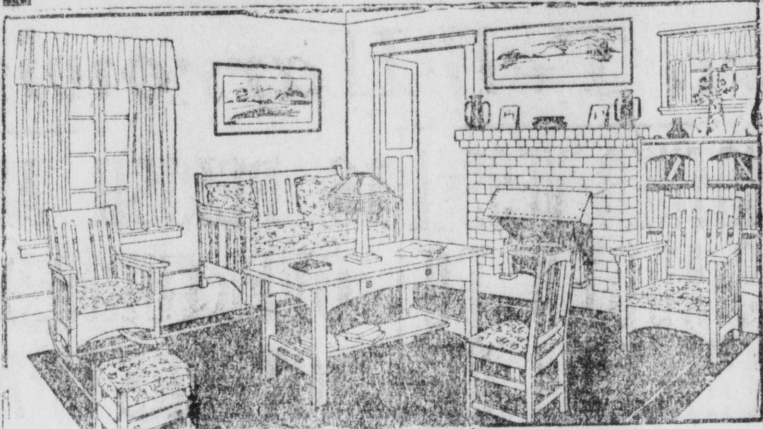

The children had expected to have a large piece of land on the Polytechnic high school campus, but after much hard work had been put on the ground, which was difficult to handle, the board of education decided to rent the ground where it was thought it would make a better showing.

One hundred and seventy pupils and teachers worked on this project and clearly demonstrated what children can do when their work is properly supervised and their interest and enthusiasm is aroused.

A. M. Davis, who has been supervising the war garden work, attended some of the meetings of the Civics club, where he was inspired to see what he could do with the help of the children.

News from the Courts

MRS. WALTERS ASKS HER PROPERTY BACK

The difficulties of Mrs. Anna G. Walters of Anaheim and Geo. A. Fox, a Los Angeles real estate man, have again come into court here. This time the case is a civil one. Fox is awaiting trial in Los Angeles on a charge of embezzling money from Mrs. Walters.

Fox was arrested first several weeks ago on the ground that he embezzled $20,000 from Mrs. Walters. That case was dismissed after a reconciliation. Later the reconciliation gave way to grievance, and Fox was arrested in Los Angeles and is being prosecuted there on another charge of embezzlement.

Two civil actions were brought here today. Each complaint alleges that previous to July 16, 1917, Fox met and made love to Mrs. Walters. He told her he was unmarried, and wanted to marry her. She said he made plans to take Mrs. Walters to Canada to be married there. In order to facilitate the handling of her property he got her to deed it to him. Deeds were for a lot at Laguna Beach, worth $1000, and for a fine orange grove at Anaheim, which grove Mrs. Walters says was worth $75,000.

It is alleged that Fox sold the grove to F. M. Moore and a man named Starr for $53,000. These two men are accused of being parties to a fraud that Mrs. Walters says Fox perpetrated upon her. She alleges that he was married, and that other of his representations to her were false. The court here is asked to set aside the deeds made by Mrs. Walters and the deed made by Fox to Moore and Starr.

COLLIER AGENT ATTACKS GIRL AND GOT CAUGHT

D. M. Chabrigan, a young man who has been soliciting for Collier's Magazine, was caught today on Custer street, after he had made an attack upon Miss Meda James at 1023 Custer street. Miss James telephoned to the city marshal's office and her description tallied with that given by one of D. Hadley's little girls, who was frightened by the same man a few days ago. Several complaints had reached the police of the man's actions.

This afternoon after Miss James had recovered from her fright, she and her mother watched the man and as soon as he was located the police were notified and City Marshal Jernigan and Dunlap Willson went out and brought Chabrigan and another solicitor in. The latter was dismissed later, as he had no connection with the case.

Jernigan questioned the solicitor who finally admitted his guilt and Willson took him to the county jail.

EXPERT'S PAY IS UP IN CASE IN COURT

Justice Cox has heard the testimony in the action in which A. Z. Monnell, an expert accountant, is suing Aaron Buchheim and A. E. Bird for $100,000. The defendants hired Monnell to go to San Diego and expert books of an oil company in which the defendants were interested. Monnell got to San Diego, but he never got at the books, and he returned without doing the experting. He sued for $20 a day for all the time he was gone. The defendants think Monnell had a pleasant vacation at their expense, and do not think they ought to pay for a part of the time he was engaged upon business of his own. Cox has the case under advisement.

ELLIOTT IS SUING AUTOIST FOR $5,000

Jesse Elliott, first lieutenant of No. 77 Home Guards of Santa Ana, has brought suit for $5150 against W. E. Wright, a Fullerton rancher, for injuries received when Wright's machine ran down Elliott and three other Home Guard officers at Fullerton on May 20.

Elliott alleges that Wright was intoxicated and was driving in a careless and reckless manner when Elliott was struck, and had a collar bone and wrist broken and was otherwise badly injured.

A. E. Koepsel is attorney for Elliott. It is understood that other damage actions will be brought against Wright, who is awaiting trial upon a criminal charge, of driving while intoxicated.

HE SUED FOR $149.50, GOT $143.50 JUDGMENT

The jury in the superior court that tried the appeal action of Dr. J. N. Bartholomew vs. J. F. McAffee gave the doctor judgment for practically as much as was asked in the complaint. Action was for $149.50, not for $249.50, as was stated erroneously yesterday, and judgment was for $143.50. Action was upon a doctor's bill.

LA HABRA BONDS ARE SOLD, $616 PREMIUM

This morning the Board of Supervisors sold the La Habra school bonds, amounting to $12,000, bearing six per cent interest, to the National City Company of California. There were ten bids. The National City Company bid accrued interest and $617 premium.

HOLD ENEMY ON ENTIRE FRONT IN MARNE BATTLE

This Week to Decide Whether Huns Plan Decisive Fight
Now or Not

BY HENRY WOOD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES ON THE MARNE, June 5.—The Germans have been completely checked in the new battle of the Marne.

Following the successful resistance to all enemy attacks yesterday and Monday the battle has now reached a point where the allies are holding the Germans on the entire front between Noyon and Chateau-Thierry.
Any serious effort to advance elsewhere on this front apparently has been abandoned.

Further progress by the Huns is unlikely unless they throw in their last reserves. With a total of 210 divisions (2,521,000 men) on the west front, the Germans are now employing nearly 70 divisions (840,000 men)
between the North Sea and Noyon and between 40 and 50 divisions (480-000 to 600,000 men) between Rheims and Switzerland. And having engaged about fifty divisions in the present battle between Noyon and Rheims they still have many divisions in reserve.

The present week undoubtedly will develop whether Ludendorff intends to engage these last reserves in the present drive—and make this the decisive battle—or will allow the present battle to become stabilized and hold these reserves for a fresh drive elsewhere. In the latter event he would again seek to obtain the advantage by a third surprise attack toward Amiens or the coast, or some other objective calculated to give decisive results.

The new battle of the Marne can be divided into five sectors, where the Germans are now obliged to concentrate their efforts toward any further advance.

Sector One is on the extreme right of the German line, south of Noyon.
It consists of high wooded hills in the region of Carlepoint, barring access to the Oise. The enemy is trying to capture these hills.

Sector Two consists of high, denuded plateaus between Carlepoint and the Aisne, with ravines running down
the southern slopes of the plateaus toward the Aisne. The Germans were checked at the summit of the plateaus.

Sector Three comprises the Soissons region, including the Aisne valley.

Sector Four consists of high plateaus in the region of the Ourcq.
Sector Five is the Chateau-Thierry region and includes a high plateau above the Marne valley.

German onslaughts on these five sectors, where allied resistance is now the strongest, aim at three great objectives, facing their right and left wings and center.

In sectors one and two, comprising the Germans' right, they seek to attain the valley of the Oise, south of Noyon, down which they would filter toward the junction with the Aisne, near Compeigne. The latter city is their first immediate objective.

In sector three the Germans have two great objectives. The first is that of progressing westward along the Aisne already to obtain the Oise and Compeigne. The second is either the encircling or capture of the forest and city of Villers-Cotterets.

In sectors four and five, comprising the left wing, the Germans seek to advance to Paris along the valleys of the Ourcq and Marne with Meux (25 miles west and south of Chateau-Thierry) as their first great objective.
For the moment the German center, comprising sector three and part of sector four, is the most important,
first, because of the double objectives
of Compeigne and Villers-Cotterets, and second, because the German right and left wings have advanced faster than the center. The latter now forms a danger arc where the enemy is forced to concentrate for the purpose of straightening the line.

A successful march on Paris would involve the capture of Compeigne and Meux, which emphasize their extreme importance. On the right and left they would serve as bases for departing converging forces toward Paris along the valleys of the Oise and Marne. But with the Germans' right completely checked and the French steadily blocking the Germans' left it is unlikely they will attain either as a departing point.

While the Germans are steadily feeding in reserves, the latest to be identified, including Bavarians, Brand-enburgers and Silesians, it does not appear that they intend to risk all in the present drive.

LOS ANGELES, June 5.—A report
for the month of May, issued yesterday by Chief of Police John L. Butler, shows 2943 arrests, a decrease of 1267

arrests was 440, as compared with 1204 a year ago.

There were 314 cases of burglary reported, as against 173 for the corresponding period last year. The number accidents showed a slight increase,

there being reports showing 925 acci-

UTAH MEN WILL GET PASSES AT NOON. BE FREE TILL SAT. EVE.

Dance Tonight Ends Set Public Entertainment For the Visitors

This afternoon thousands of people are gathered at the high school grounds for the Army-Navy baseball game and for the regimental drill by the visiting soldiers, 656 officers and men of the 145th (First Utah) Field Artillery.

It is the biggest crowd ever gathered in Santa Ana for a baseball game.
It is the biggest crowd ever gathered on the Santa Ana high school grounds.

The regimental band is playing, and the game is on. It is a big occasion, and an event that is one of several
that are making the visit of the Utah artillerymen memorable.

Last night's dinner engagements
were kept, and dinners—such dinners.
One need not step upon the grounds where the soldiers are camped to hear soldiers telling each other what a big time they had last evening.

This morning the batteries were assembled and were given drill on the high school grounds.

Get PASSES Tomorrow
Tomorrow morning is to be a strictly business morning. It is to be pay day. The men are to draw their money for the month. Those who want passes will be given them, so that they can depart from camp tomorrow at noon, and they need not report back before 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening.

Any soldier not retained on guard at the camp will be free to accept dinner invitations for any meal intervening between noon tomorrow and Saturday evening. It is suggested that citizens call at the grounds and take soldiers out for rides.

Band Concert Tonight
Tonight will be one of the big events of the visit of the soldiers.
The regimental band—and it is a wonderful band—will give a concert at Birch Park from 6:15 o'clock to 8:15.
The hour is set early so that the soldiers who are in the band may get away for the dances that are to be given this evening.

Dances for the soldiers will be given at Elks' hall and at Neill's hall.
Dancing at Elks' hall will start at 8:30 and at Neill's at 8. The soldiers are to be in camp at 11:15 o'clock.
The dance at Elks' hall will have the regimental orchestra playing. The Elks will see that the dance is properly chaperoned. The Princess Theater is open to the soldiers. The West End and Clune's will have special programs tonight and tomorrow night for soldiers, who enter free.

Leave Sunday Early
Camp is to be broken Sunday morning at 5:35 o'clock, and between 6:20
and 6:30 Sunday morning the Utah boys will be on the march on their return trip to Camp Kearny.

FILE REPORT OR NO SUGAR WILL BE ALLOWED

Here is an important notice for every soda pop manufacturer, every candy maker, every soda fountain and every other manufacturer of non-essential products.

This notice comes from C. C. Crookshank, county food administrator, and comes to him direct from the food administration. In brief, that notice is:
Every manufacturer of non-essential products in which sugar is used must, on or before June 10, file with the county food administrator a statement with the manufacturer's estimate of sugar that will be required by that manufacturer's business. Unless that statement is filed with C. C.
Crookshank on or before June 10, the person so failing shall not be allowed any sugar whatever for his enterprise
during the remainder of 1918.

In other words, if he fails to make the required report, he doubtless will have to close down his plant.

FOOD CONSERVATION LECTURE IS GIVEN AT GARDEN GROVE

Mrs. Lawton Speaks on Farm Home Department, Which Is Unanimously Formed

A lecture upon food conservation was delivered in Garden Grove Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Hazzard, federal demonstrator, and was attended by a large and deeply interested audience of women. The speaker dwelt upon the urgent need of conservation of clothing (both cotton and wool) and of wheat, sugar, and meat. The listeners must have realized as never before, the demands which war lays upon them for earnestness and devotion in helping to save for our soldiers and our allies these necessary things.
Mrs. Hazzard then gave numerous

them:

"VANTA" Pinless, Buttonless Vests.

—The "Vanta" line includes also bands,
binders, diapers, and knitties. The outstanding feature of "Vanta" garments is that they require no pins or buttons—there is nothing about them to injure or irritate the baby.

factories absolutely sanitary, these "Vanta" Vests and bands are superior in all respects. We carry all sizes from Birth to 4 years.

TALK ON FERTILIZERS FEATURES MEETING OF FARM CENTER

Supt. of Leffingwell Ranch
Addresses 50 Fullerton
Ranchers

Fifty members of the Fullerton Farm Center gathered at the music room of the school auditorium and listened with great appreciation to an address by Dr. McBeth, superintendent of the Leffingwell ranch, upon the subject of fertilizers for citrus trees.
Dr. McBeth made it very plain that the growing of cover crops, while most helpful, is not sufficient to provide the nitrogen needed yearly for a citrus grove. He urged the application of good dairy manure and bean
straw wherever available.

Mr. Sprague, the county farm advisor, reported up on the farm bureau meeting and announced that subjects related to the lecture would be discussed at the next meeting of the Fullerton Center.

WELCOME, UTAH

After yesterday's reception and after last evening's dinners, there can be no word added, perhaps, that will go deeper into the consciousness of the 145th Field Artillery in convincing every man in the regiment from Col. Webb down to the newest private that he is sincerely welcome in Santa Ana. The warmth of our welcome has been demonstrated, and as each day goes by the officers and soldiers are going to know that we thoroughly appreciate them as visitors, gentlemen and soldiers.

"They are just like our own boys," said one mother, who, with tears shining in her eyes, told of the great pleasure that it had been to her to take two of them into her home.

And she was right. They are just like our own Orange County boys—they are our boys.

All of these boys in khaki are our boys, and from this day hence we shall watch the papers with deeper interest as the First Utah goes eastward, across the water and into the forefront of battle. We will go with them into the heat of contest, and if their comrades go down to death and pain, our sorrows shall be their sorrows, and when the First Utah marches into Berlin, rest assured, Col. Webb, that many hearts in Santa Ana are going to beat with pride because for these few days we had the opportunity of entertaining you and your regiment.

STAMPING OUT SEDITION

The new sedition amendment to the espionage bill, which Attorney-General Gregory is sending to all the district attorneys with orders to enforce it, is an eye-opener.

The law provides a maximum penalty of 20 years imprisonment and $10,000 fine for any of the following offenses:

Conveying false reports and statements with intent to interfere with the military operations of the government.

Talking against Liberty Bonds, Thrift Stamps and other government securities.

Attempting to cause mutiny or disloyalty in the nation's armed forces.

Uttering, publishing or writing disloyal, profane contemptuous or scurrilous language about the form of government of the United States, the constitution, the flag, the armed forces, the army and navy uniforms.

Making statements intended to promote resistance to the United States or to promote the cause of its enemies.

Displaying the flag of any enemy nation.

Urging curtailment of production of food, munitions and other essentials in the prosecution of the war.

That is surely comprehensive enough.

There are thousands of people in the country who in the past have been doing these things with impunity. Some of them have been pro-Germans. Others have been unreasoning pacifists. Both classes have done harm, and both have grievously offended the loyal citizens by their insolence. Hereafter it will be possible to put them where they belong.

But it won't be necessary to round up many of them, if the law is applied promptly and sternly. A few convictions will silence them all.

BANANAS

We haven't realized the military value—or the mere food value—of bananas.

Walter Sheppard of Columbus, Ohio, wanted to join the marine corps. They would not accept him because he was several pounds underweight. Somebody told Walter that bananas would remedy that, and he started in.

The first day he ate two dozen bananas. The next day he ate a dozen and a half. Then he settled down to a dozen a day. He started to gain weight from the first, and gained steadily. It was a pleasant process. He liked bananas. And as his friends heard of the plan, they gave him banana parties.

After a few days of this intensive banana diet, Walter found that he had passed the weight limit. He drank a few glasses of water, filled his pockets with bananas to eat on the way and started again for the recruiting station, and was accepted.

The story has a civilian as well as a military application. In this time of intensive food conservation, how many of us appreciate the value of the banana as a cheap and wholesome food? It is at the same time a palatable fruit and a fair substitute for wheat.

SUPPORT FOR RAILROADS

The railroads would not have dared to ask for universal three-cent passenger fares and 25 per cent freight rate increases. Now these concessions, aggregating an income gain of about $860,000,000, are made voluntarily by the government.

It is a striking reversal of policy. Formerly the government would have resisted such action with all its power. And the public would have backed the government. Now the public, though realizing the heavy bill it has to pay, isn't saying a word.

The reason is, of course, that the new rates are recognized as necessary. Director-General McAdoo explains that wage increases which could not be avoided will demand $325,000,000 more than last year. There must be $160,000,000 more paid for fuel and oil. Nearly everything else that a railroad needs has risen proportionately. Interest and dividends have to be paid. The government has assumed responsibility for them. So inevitably up go the rates.

It's one of the burdens entailed by the war. We may have the satisfaction, however, of knowing that as a result of this liberal policy the railroad system will be in much better condition after the war than it was before, and this improvement will mean much for our post-bellum prosperity.

A WOMAN SENATOR?

The lady from Montana in the House of Representatives may have a fellow legislatrix in the Senate after the next elections. A Nevada woman has commenced her campaign as independent candidate for United States Senator. She has opened her headquarters and is said to have been promised the support of speakers of national reputation.

She has announced a win-the-war program and is in favor of every step necessary to carrying it out. She considers state and national prohibition part of such a program.

Folks who have mistrusted all along that women were aiming at public office may perhaps shake their heads fearfully over the prospect of a woman senator. But the rest aren't going to worry particularly, even if she is elected. If she has the ideals and brains and ability that fit her for the senatorial job, let her make use of them.

While the guns are booming in France, the American tractor is winning the food battle at home. Reports indicate that there are today no less than 100,000 tractors chugging away on American farms, doing the work of at least 200,000 farm hands and 800,000 horses. The number in use last summer was not more than 40,000. By the end of this year, experts say, there will be more than 200,000 of these tireless workers on the job.

The tractor is solving the agricultural problem. It is making it possible to produce more food with less labor, thus fitting in finely with war conditions.

We shipped our European allies 359,000,000 pounds of meat last month, against 161,000,000 pounds in April of last year. The U-boat was to starve the Allies. As matters stand, it isn't starving anybody but Germany.

A soldier's railroad fare is lowered to one cent a mile while other folks' fare is raised to 3 cents. And that would be mighty nice for the soldier, if he were allowed to travel.

Telephone Troubles

(From the Riverside Press)

San Bernardino has under consideration the consolidation of the telephone systems on lines similar to those worked out in Riverside, but Editor Harbison is a little inclined, in view of recent development here, to think it may be best to endure the ills now suffered than to fly to those which may develop (to paraphrase Shakespeare). Mr. Harbison says:

"Our attention is challenged by a situation in Riverside. Telephone systems there were consolidated some time ago, and the Riverside correspondent of a Los Angeles paper reports the following results:

"The service of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, which consolidated its plant with that of the Home Telephone Company several months ago, is made the matter of complaint in a letter which Mayor Porter had addressed to C. F. Mason, division commercial superintendent at Los Angeles.

"The mayor bases his charges of poor service on a provision of the company's franchise, which limits the time for answering line signals to 4.3 seconds. This time is frequently between 30 and 60 seconds, according to the mayor's belief. At night, the mayor asserts, the response of central is so slow that it often is impossible to get an operator without prolonged calling and waiting. He has requested that the service be made to comply with the franchise agreement."

"The Sun man must also bear testimony. He was in Riverside one day this week and in a store on Main street begged the use of a telephone to call a friend in Riverside, and he will stoutly support Mayor Porter's belief that the time required to 'get central' in that instance was all of 60 seconds. We did not think of it at the time as more than an unusual circumstance, but the item from the Riverside correspondent at once brought it forward in a new light, and suggests that perhaps after all, San Bernardino is not to be congratulated on the proposed local merger.

"That was exactly the difficulty years ago, and it resulted in competition in every city in Southern California. The competition brought that never-ending nuisance, the double telephone system, but it also brought service on both of them, and service is worth paying for. The word from Riverside gives us pause."

Bud Flivver's Observations

 Little Billy Snyder—Came running over—to our house—And told me to come quick—That Aunt Hannah Newcomb—Wanted to see me—

 And when I got there—She was propped up—in her easy chair—And she was in—A peevish mood—

 And she asked me—Did I know anything about—A floppy heart—Or indigestion—Or anything like that—

 And I told her—The only thing—That ever bothered me—Was a light head—And a sluggish liver—

 And she said—That was nothing—To what she had—And I could—Consider myself—A lucky man—

 And she said—The doctor had just—Been there to see her—And left her a—New kind of medicine—

 And she said—He told her—She had a spread—Of toxins—All through her system—And high blood pressure—

 And she asked me—Was that something—Like a steam boiler—That would burst—If the pressure—Got too high—

 And I told her—I thought it meant—Her heart was—Working too hard—And was straining—The blood vessels—And making them hard—

 And she said—That was because—She had to run after—That blamed goat—And keep it from—Chewing all the rubber—Off the clothes wringer—And things like that—

 And I asked her—Why didn't she—Sell the goat—And quit stewing around—And get well—

 And she said—She was so used to—Running after the critter—That if she quit now—She would be lonesome—

 And she asked me—What did the doctor mean—When he said—She was full of toxins—And did he mean—She was full of liquor?—

 And I told her—It was some kind—Of poison substance—And if it wasn't stopped—Some day it would kill her—

 And she said—If she was full of poison—It came from—That canned fruit—Mrs. Jessup sent her—And she never thought—That Mrs. Jessup—Liked her very well anyhow—

 And I told her toxins meant—Poisons produced—in her own system—From eating the wrong things—

 And she said—Yes, I know—Other people want—To poison me—And you want to—Starve me to death—By Bud.

AMUSEMENTS

AT PRINCESS THURSDAY

Metro Pictures Corporation has produced for the screen Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet." It is a great production, one that easily will rank with the best cinematic efforts that have gone before. It is a subject that should appeal alike to the Shakespearean student and the man to whom the linked names of Romeo and Juliet have only the remotest significance. Plainly, it has been the aim of the producers to visualize the story of the world's greatest love tragedy just as it was penned by the hand of the master. They have neither subtracted from it in any essential detail nor have they added to it.

SUBMIT PAVING, SEWER PLANS, TO NEWPORT COUNCIL

Discuss Advisability of Improvements Now; Electricity For Newport Heights

NEWPORT BEACH, Cal., June 5.

City Engineer Paul E. Kressly submitted complete plans, maps and specifications for the new sewer system and paving at the meeting of the board of trustees held at the city hall Tuesday evening. The board held a short session Monday evening, but on account of the reception of the 145th Utah artillery, they adjourned until the following evening. George P. Wilson acting as president presided in the absence of Chairman Greeley.

The plans for street improvement include the paving of Central avenue from East Newport to Fifteenth street on the northerly side of the Pacific Electric tracks and to Seventeenth street on the southerly side, and at Balboa, all streets between Main and East Newport. The dirt which is now on the streets will be used in improving the alleys so that they will be passable, as nearly all streets will require some filling to bring them up to the new grades which have been established.

There was considerable discussion in regard to the feasibility of paving at this time, Trustee McCain favoring the beginning of the work at once, while Trustees Schmitker and Wilkinson thought the time inopportune on account of the war and financial conditions and that the additional expense of the work ought not to be imposed upon the property owners at this time. McCain said that the city had spent enough on the streets in improving them to go a long ways toward paving for the paving, and would be compelled to continue the expense until paving was done, which in the end would be cheaper than continual filling and working. People were impatient for the work to start, he said, and he believed in giving them what they asked for, regardless of a few chronic kickers who balked at every public improvement. The matter was finally laid over until all members of the board were present.

The plans of the city engineer on the sewer proposition were ready for the action of the board, but no action was taken at the meeting, as the idea of the engineer had been to so arrange the plans that a contractor could bid on both the sewer work and the paving and both could be done at the same time. However, the intention of the board is to go ahead with the sewer regardless of whether the paving is done or not and action will probably be taken at the next meeting.

The committee appointed to investigate the problem of placing electric lights on Newport Heights and obtain estimates of the cost, reported that City Electrician Cordye Rodgers had been instructed to purchase the necessary supplies and proceed with the work. Newport Heights, or that portion within the city limits, is now assured of electric lights and it is reported that a number of property owners will at once commence plans to build on this addition of the city.

The request of City Clerk Royal Lemon for an assistant during the months of June and July at a salary not to exceed $75 per month was laid over until a subsequent meeting. Pete Perocovich's application for janitor and general clean-up man of the city was also laid over until all members of board were present.

Frank Rinehart, city gas manager, was appointed city recorder at a salary of $10 per month.

The request of William O'Meara for a transfer of his bakery license to C. S. Wilson was granted. Edwin D.

Morris was granted a license to conduct a lunch stand at the corner of Main and Ocean Front, Balboa.

Plans for assessing the property within the district established for the opening of Bay avenue from Twenty-third street to Thirtieth street, were submitted by the city engineer and approved by the board. Lots bordering on the new street will be assessed $100 each, and the adjoining at $25 each, and those running toward the ocean have been graduated so that each one pays a dollar less as they become farther away from the street to be opened. Other parcels and lots have been assessed at a flat rate which does not exceed $6.70.

SOUTHERN MEMORIAL
Daughters of Confederacy
Decorate Confederate
Graves

Monday, June 3rd, was Jefferson Davis' birthday, a date always observed by the Daughters of the Confederacy as the Confederate Memorial day. In the morning the local chapter of the Daughters held a brief memorial service at the cemetery, and flowers were strewn upon the graves of all the Confederate dead who are sleeping there.

At noon, a genuine, old-fashioned southern dinner was served at the Spurgeon Memorial church—chicken and corn bread, of course, and all the other delicious southern dishes cooked as only the women of the South can cook them. The dinner was given by the Daughters to the veterans who wore the gray, and to their families and friends. Toasts were given by Mrs. Victor Montgomery and Horace Head.

After dinner, in the auditorium, a program was given. Among its very enjoyable features were vocal solos by Mrs. Charles Johnson and Miss Louise Montgomery, organ solos by Miss Hester Covington, and readings by Miss Minnie Terrill and Miss Laura Taylor.

Jewish Soldiers Entertained by Jewish Families

Mr. and Mrs. I. Troub, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hurwitz and Mr. and Mrs. M. Karp entertained last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Karp three Jewish soldier boys. The house was beautifully decorated, the table set with some of the most tasty Jewish dishes. The homelike feeling and the good music was more than enjoyed by the welcome guests. It was a delightful affair and in the words of the boys, "Santa Ana will long be remembered." Singing of the "Star-Spangled Banner" and the "Marseillaise," led by Miss Gertrude Karp, preceded the dinner, and needless to say the dinner was most heartily enjoyed. The ladies presented the soldiers with souvenir gifts which were highly appreciated.

Belle Rogers W. C. T. U.

Belle Rogers W. C. T. U. had its regular monthly program yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fanny Lash. The meeting was in charge of Mrs. T. Johnson, on "Flower Mission." About fifty bouquets of beautiful flowers were distributed in the Santa Ana Hospital, also among the sick in the homes.

Mrs. Mills, county organizer, gave a most helpful talk, her subject being "Echoes From the State Convention at Bakersfield." One of the ladies who entertained two soldier boys gave each of them a W. C. T. U. army bag. The Belle Rogers W. C. T. U. will have just one more meeting at the Lash home. For the summer months the members will meet at the Armory.

U. P. Missionary Society
The Women's Missionary Society of the United Presbyterian church will hold its meeting tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. M. Smart. It was postponed from today on account of the regimental review.

SOLDIER GUESTS

Dinners, Dances and Automobile Trips Helped Entertain Boys Last Night

Santa Ana was hostess last night to the soldiers who are such welcome visitors here. Happiness reigned in the homes where soldier guests were obtainable, and gloom hovered over the dinner tables in the homes where there were none. Everybody wanted soldiers—and there were not enough to go around. Small boys, whose mothers had soldiers for dinner guests, strutted about like miniature major-domos, and small boys who were disappointed of the expected privilege found their only consolation in the hope that they might be able to annex some soldiers later in the week.

Twelve young soldiers were dinner guests at the hospitable home of Dr. Willa Waffle. Several young women were asked to help entertain the boys.

A dinner dance was given by Miss Doris Robbins at her home on Lacy street, where several of her friends and their soldier guests spent a delightful evening.

Ten of the boys were entertained at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Crookshank.

A dinner dance for twenty of the boys was given at the armory by Mrs. G. K. Sevel and Mrs. Homer Robinson, assisted by the war brides who are in charge of the Wednesday luncheon. Twenty girls helped the men have a royal good time.

A large company of soldiers was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Lisenbard at their home on North Broadway.

A dinner and dance was given at the home of G. A. Edgar.

Hundreds of other homes delighted to do honor to the boys from Utah, who everywhere are making fast friends who will long remember them.

Sunshine Picnic Postponed

What to Do When Backache Comes On

"Foley Kidney Pills have done me more good than $150.00 worth of other medicine." Chas. M. Fox, Hiram, N. Y.

When backache comes on and it seems as if you can't stand the pain and pressure across the small of your back, hurry to your drugist and get relief through a box of Foley Kidney Pills. They will stop the cause of that pain very quickly, spur the sluggish kidneys to regular action, enable them to throw the poisons out of the blood. They will get rid of pain and rheumatism for you, quiet your nerves, stop your backache, and limber up your stiff joints and sore muscles.

Frank W. Sherman, Lacona, N. Y., writes: "I suffered with kidney trouble, had a tired feeling in my back, did not have any ambition and felt all tired out. I used Foley Kidney Pills and in a few days began to feel better, and now I have entirely recovered."

WIDOWED MOTHER GIVES THREE HEROIC SONS

LONDON, June 5.—The name of Bradford took on even more luster and a widowed mother, already deprived of two brave sons, gave up a third boy when Lieutenant Commander Bradford of the British Navy was killed in the Zeebrugge raid.

The naval officer son deliberately sacrificed himself in an attempt to fasten one of the landing planks to the mole. In the full glare of searchlights and star shells he leaped to the parapet of the mole and sat astride it, trying to get the planks into place. Many machine guns were sweeping the parapet, and it was only a few seconds until he was shot dead.

Mrs. Bradford's most noted son was Brigadier General Bradford, the youngest general in the British army. He had won the Victoria cross for extreme bravery and became a general at the age of 34. He was killed shortly after making a speech to his

Machine Driven By F. S. Schepp of San Francisco Turns Turtle at El Toro

D. P. Murphy of Los Angeles was thrown from an automobile today about noon in crossing the bridge at a sharp turn below El Toro and is lying unconscious at the Santa Ana Hospital, having suffered concussion of the brain. He is seventy-eight years of age and the injury, it is feared, will prove fatal.

The injured man and his wife were traveling to San Diego with Mrs. Murphy's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Schepp, of San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. Murphy were on the back seat and the sudden turn of the machine threw the old gentleman out when the machine turned turtle.

None of the party was seriously injured except Mr. Murphy, although all were taken to the hospital for treatment.

NEWS BUDGET
ABOUT HARPER

HARPER, June 5.—The Co-Operative Association of Newport Heights will hold their regular meeting Thursday evening, June 13, at the Harper-Fairview school house.

The Fairview Farms Association has accepted an invitation to attend this meeting and a good time is expected.

Mrs. Reich, chairman of the entertainment committee, has arranged an interesting program.

Tuesday evening of last week a sort of Round Table meeting of the members of the Fairview Farms Association met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Folsom to discuss forms of leasing and leases. Dr. Wherry led in the meeting. Walter Young of the Newport Heights tract gave several valuable pointers as to what should be in and what should be left out of leases.

After a general discussion by any who wished to take part, the question was pretty thoroughly gone over and all felt they would at least know what to guard against.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Baker entertained a party of friends Monday. In the evening they attended the soldiers' band concert at Balboa, afterward holding a wiener bake on the beach at Newport. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Blodgett, Mr. and Mrs. Clisdrout of Donner Grove, Ill., and Mrs. Albert Smith of Newport.

Will Stearns and family enjoyed a picnic trip to Laguna last Sunday, where they saw the Utah soldier boys on their train.

Mrs. J. K. Horne, who is a patient at the Loma Linda sanatorium, is expected home the latter part of this week, much improved in health.

Thursday of this week being the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Leonard Swales, she, with Mr. Swales, expects to celebrate the event with a few days' trip to Los Angeles.

The Friday Afternoon Club of Newport Heights will meet at the home of Mrs. Dan Reich this week.

Another Red Cross Room
Mr. Rochester, who had already given the use of one room in his house for Red Cross work, has now given another, which will be used as a sewing room, the first one to be used exclusively for surgical dressing work.

This will give all ladies who do not care for the surgical work a chance to work at sewing. Mrs. Drigger of Balboa is chairman of this work and by Friday afternoon of next week the work room will be ready for occupancy and work on hand to do.

Mrs. H. B. Woodruff has donated her machine for a time. Mr. Rochester has also offered to donate one outfit, consisting of long-sleeve apron and head dress, for the surgical dressing room, so if any lady should come without apron, she could be provided.

Mr. Rochester has shown such splendid spirit in this work, the ladies of the community should show their appreciation of his efforts by filling both these rooms every day.

Bouquet for U. S. Officer
The bond of brotherhood and sincere feeling between the French people and the Americans, especially our American soldiers, was touchingly demonstrated at Balboa last Monday evening when Lieutenant-Colonel Webb was presented with a bouquet by Mr. Volke and family, who are French residents of Fairview Farms.

Colonel Webb very fittingly spoke of this tribute and gave his word that the Utah artillery would do their best to bring about a victory and permanent peace when they should be placed on the battlefields of France.

WELCOME, UTAH

After yesterday's reception and after last evening's dinners, there can be no word added, perhaps, that will go deeper into the consciousness of the 145th Field Artillery in convincing every man in the regiment from Col. Webb down to the newest private that he is sincerely welcome in Santa Ana. The warmth of our welcome has been demonstrated, and as each day goes by the officers and soldiers are going to know that we thoroughly appreciate them as visitors, gentlemen and soldiers.

"They are just like our own boys," said one mother, who, with tears shining in her eyes, told of the great pleasure that it had been to her to take two of them into her home.

And she was right. They are just like our own Orange County boys—they are our boys.

All of these boys in khaki are our boys, and from this day hence we shall watch the papers with deeper interest as the First Utah goes eastward, across the water and into the forefront of battle. We will go with them into the heat of contest, and if their comrades go down to death and pain, our sorrows shall be their sorrows, and when the First Utah marches into Berlin, rest assured, Col. Webb, that many hearts in Santa Ana are going to beat with pride because for these few days we had the opportunity of entertaining you and your regiment.

STAMPING OUT SEDITION

The new sedition amendment to the espionage bill, which Attorney-General Gregory is sending to all the district attorneys with orders to enforce it, is an eye-opener.

The law provides a maximum penalty of 20 years' imprisonment and $10,000 fine for any of the following offenses:

Conveying false reports and statements with intent to interfere with the military operations of the government.

Talking against Liberty Bonds, Thrift Stamps and other government securities.

Attempting to cause mutiny or disloyalty in the nation's armed forces.

Uttering, publishing or writing disloyal, profane contemptuous or scurrilous language about the form of government of the United States, the constitution, the flag, the armed forces, the army and navy uniforms.

Making statements intended to promote resistance to the United States or to promote the cause of its enemies.

Displaying the flag of any enemy nation.

Urging curtailment of production of food, munitions and other essentials in the prosecution of the war.

That is surely comprehensive enough.

There are thousands of people in the country who in the past have been doing these things with impunity. Some of them have been pro-Germans. Others have been unreasoning pacifists. Both classes have done harm, and both have grievously offended the loyal citizens by their insolence. Hereafter it will be possible to put them where they belong.

But it won't be necessary to round up many of them, if the law is applied promptly and sternly. A few convictions will silence them all.

BANANAS

We haven't realized the military value—or the mere food value—of bananas.

Walter Sheppard of Columbus, Ohio, wanted to join the marine corps. They would not accept him because he was several pounds underweight. Somebody told Walter that bananas would remedy that, and he started in.

The first day he ate two dozen bananas. The next day he ate a dozen and a half. Then he settled down to a dozen a day. He started to gain weight from the first, and gained steadily. It was a pleasant process. He liked bananas. And as his friends heard of the plan, they gave him banana parties.

After a few days of this intensive banana diet, Walter found that he had passed the weight limit. He drank a few glasses of water, filled his pockets with bananas to eat on the way and started again for the recruiting station, and was accepted.

The story has a civilian as well as a military application. In this time of intensive food conservation, how many of us appreciate the value of the banana as a cheap and wholesome food? It is at the same time a palatable fruit and a fair substitute for wheat.

The railroads would not have dared to ask for universal three-cent passenger fares and 25 per cent freight rate increases. Now these concessions, aggregating an income gain of about $860,000,000, are made voluntarily by the government.

It is a striking reversal of policy. Formerly the government would have resisted such action with all its power. And the public would have backed the government. Now the public, though realizing the heavy bill it has to pay, isn't saying a word.

The reason is, of course, that the new rates are recognized as necessary. Director-General McAdoo explains that the increases which could not be avoided will demand $325,000,000 more than last year. There must be $160,000,000 more paid for fuel and oil. Nearly everything else that a railroad needs has risen proportionately. Interest and dividends have to be paid. The government has assumed responsibility for them. So inevitably up go the rates.

It's one of the burdens entailed by the war. We may have the satisfaction, however, of knowing that as a result of this liberal policy the railroad system will be in much better condition after the war than it will be fore, and this improvement will mean much for our post-bellum prosperity.

A WOMAN SENATOR?

The lady from Montana in the House of Representatives may have a fellow legislatrix in the Senate after the next elections. A Nevada woman has commenced her campaign as independent candidate for United States Senator. She has opened her headquarters and is said to have been promised the support of speakers of national reputation.

She has announced a win-the-war program and is in favor of every step necessary to carrying it out. She considers state and national prohibition part of such a program.

Folks who have mistrusted all along that women were aiming at public office may perhaps shake their heads fearfully over the prospect of a woman senator. But the rest aren't going to worry particularly, even if she is elected. If she has the ideals and brains and ability that fit her for the senatorial job, let her make use of them.

While the guns are booming in France, the American tractor is winning the food battle at home. Reports indicate that there are today no less than 100,000 tractors chugging away on American farms, doing the work of at least 200,000 farm hands and 800,000 horses. The number in use last summer was not more than 40,000. By the end of this year, experts say, there will be more than 300,000 of these tireless workers on the job.

The tractor is solving the agricultural problem. It is making it possible to produce more food with less labor, thus fitting in finely with war conditions.

We shipped our European allies 359,000,000 pounds of meat last month, against 161,000,000 pounds in April of last year. The U-boat was to starve the Allies. As matters stand, it isn't starving anybody but Germany.

A soldier's railroad fare is lowered to one cent a mile while other folks' fare is raised to 3 cents. And that would be mighty nice for the soldier, if he were allowed to travel.

Telephone Troubles

(From the Riverside Press)

San Bernardino has under consideration the consolidation of the telephone systems on lines similar to those worked out in Riverside, but Editor Harbison is a little inclined, in view of recent development here, to think it may be best to endure the ills now suffered than to fly to those which may develop (to paraphrase Shakespeare). Mr. Harbison says:

"Our attention is challenged by a situation in Riverside. Telephone systems there were consolidated some time ago, and the Riverside correspondent of a Los Angeles paper reports the following results:

"The service of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, which consolidated its plant with that of the Home Telephone Company several months ago, is made the matter of complaint in a letter which Mayor Porter had addressed to C. F. Mason, division commercial superintendent at Los Angeles.

"The mayor bases his charges of poor service on a provision of the company's franchise, which limits the time for answering line signals to 4.3 seconds. This time is frequently between 30 and 60 seconds, according to the mayor's belief. At night, the mayor asserts, the response of central is so slow that it often is impossible to get an operator without prolonged calling and waiting. He has requested that the service be made to comply with the franchise agreement."

"The Sun man must also bear testimony. He was in Riverside one day this week and in a store on Main street begged the use of a telephone to call a friend in Riverside, and he will stoutly support Mayor Porter's belief that the time required to 'get central' in that instance was all of 60 seconds. We did not think of it at the time as more than an unusual circumstance, but the item from the Riverside correspondent at once brought it forward in a new light, and suggests that perhaps after all, San Bernardino is not to be congratulated on the proposed local merger.

"That was exactly the difficulty years ago, and it resulted in competition in every city in Southern California. The competition brought that never-ending nuisance, the double telephone system, but it also brought service on both of them, and service is worth paying for. The word from Riverside gives us pause."

Bud Flivver's Observations

 Little Billy Snyder—Came running over—To our house—And told me to come quick—That Aunt Hannah Newcomb—Wanted to see me—

 And when I got there—She was propped up—In her easy chair—And she was in—A peevish mood—

 And she asked me—Did I know anything about—A floppy heart—Or indigestion—Or anything like that—

 And I told her—The only thing—That ever bothered me—Was a light head—And a sluggish liver—

 And she said—That was nothing—To what she had—And I could—Consider myself—A lucky man—

 And she said—The doctor had just—Been there to see her—And left her a—New kind of medicine—

 And she said—He told her—She had a spread—Of toxins—All through her system—And high blood pressure—

 And she asked me—Was that something—Like a steam boiler—That would burst—If the pressure—Got too high—

 And I told her—I thought it meant—Her heart was—Working too hard—And was straining—The blood vessels—And making them hard—

 And she said—That was because—She had to run after—That blamed goat—And keep it from—Chewing all the rubber—Off the clothes wringer—And things like that—

 And I asked her—Why didn't she—Sell the goat—And quit stewing around—And get well—

 And she said—She was so used to—Running after the critter—That if she quit now—She would be lonesome—

 And she asked me—What did the doctor mean—When he said—She was full of toxins—And did he mean—She was full of liquor?—

 And I told her—It was some kind—Of poison substance—And if it wasn't stopped—Some day it would kill her—

 And she said—If she was full of poison—It came from—The canned fruit—Mrs. Jessup sent her—And she never thought—That Mrs. Jessup—Liked her very well anyhow—

 And I told her toxins meant—Poisons produced—in her own system—From eating the wrong things—

 And she said—Yes, I know—Other people want—To poison me—And you want—To starve me to death—By Bud.

AMUSEMENTS

AT PRINCESS THURSDAY
Metro Pictures Corporation has produced for the screen Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet." It is a great production, one that easily will rank with the best cinematographic efforts that have gone before. It is a subject that should appeal alike to the Shakespearean student and the man to whom the linked names of Romeo and Juliet have only the remotest significance. Plainly, it has been the aim of the producers to visualize the story of the world's greatest love tragedy just as it was penned by the hand of the master. They have neither subtracted from it in any essential detail nor have they added to it.

SUBMIT PAVING, SEWER PLANS, TO NEWPORT COUNCIL

Discuss Advisability of Improvements Now; Electricity For Newport Heights

NEWPORT BEACH, Cal., June 5.—City Engineer Paul E. Kressly submitted complete plans, maps and specifications for the new sewer system and paving at the meeting of the board of trustees held at the city hall Tuesday evening. The board held a short session Monday evening, but on account of the reception of the 145th Utah artillery, they adjourned until the following evening, George P. Wilson acting as president pro-tem in the absence of Chairman Greeley.

The plans for street improvement include the paving of Central avenue from East Newport to Fifteenth street on the northerly side of the Pacific Electric tracks and to Seventeenth street on the southerly side, and at Balboa, all streets between Main and East Newport. The dirt which is now on the streets will be used in improving the alleys so that they will be passable, as nearly all streets will require some filling to bring them up to the new grades which have been established.

There was considerable discussion in regard to the feasibility of paving at this time, Trustee McCain favoring the beginning of the work at once, while Trustees Schmitt and Wilkinson thought the time inopportune on account of the war and financial conditions and that the additional expense of the work ought not to be imposed upon the property owners at this time. McCain said that the city had spent enough on the streets in improving them to go a long ways toward paving for the paving, and would be compelled to continue the expense until paving was done, which in the end would be cheaper than continual filling and working. People were impatient for the work to start, he said, and he believed in giving them what they asked for, regardless of a few chronic kickers who balked at every public improvement. The matter was finally laid over until all members of the board were present.

The plans of the city engineer on the sewer proposition were ready for the action of the board, but no action was taken at the meeting, as the idea of the engineer had been to so arrange the plans that a contractor could bid on both the sewer work and the paving and both could be done at the same time. However, the intention of the board is to go ahead with the sewer regardless of whether the paving is done or not and action will probably be taken at the next meeting.

The committee appointed to investigate the problem of placing electric lights on Newport Heights and obtain estimates of the cost, reported that City Electrician Cordye Rodgers had been instructed to purchase the necessary supplies and proceed with the work. Newport Heights, or that portion within the city limits, is now assured of electric lights and it is reported that a number of property owners will at once commence plans to build on this addition of the city.

The request of City Clerk Royal Lemon for an assistant during the months of June and July at a salary not to exceed $75 per month was laid over until a subsequent meeting. Pete Perocovich's application for janitor and general clean-up man of the city was also laid over until all members of board were present.

Frank Rinehart, city gas manager, was appointed city recorder at a salary of $10 per month.

The request of William O'Meara for a transfer of his bakery license to C. S. Wilson was granted. Edwin D.

Morris was granted a license to conduct a lunch stand at the corner of Main and Ocean Front, Balboa.

Plans for assessing the property within the district established for the opening of Bay avenue from Twenty-third street to Thirtieth street were submitted by the city engineer and approved by the board. Lots bordering on the new street will be assessed $100 each, and the adjoining at $25 each, and those running toward the ocean have been graduated so that each one pays a dollar less as they become farther away from the street to be opened. Other parcels and lots have been assessed at a flat rate which does not exceed $6.70.

D. P. MURPHY IS HURT TODAY IN ACCIDENT

Machine Driven By F. S. Schepp of San Francisco Turns Turtle at El Toro

D. P. Murphy of Los Angeles was thrown from an automobile today about noon in crossing the bridge at a sharp turn below El Toro and is lying unconscious at the Santa Ana Hospital, having suffered concussion of the brain. He is seventy-eight years of age and the injury, it is feared, will prove fatal.

The injured man and his wife were traveling to San Diego with Mrs. Murphy's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Schepp, of San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. Murphy were on the back seat and the sudden turn of the machine threw the old gentleman out when the machine turned turtle.

None of the party was seriously injured except Mr. Murphy, although all were taken to the hospital for treatment.

NEWS BUDGET ABOUT HARPER

HARPER, June 5.—The Co-Operative Association of Newport Heights will hold their regular meeting Thursday evening, June 13, at the Harper-Fairview school house. The Fairview Farms Association has accepted an invitation to attend this meeting and a good time is expected. Mrs. Reich, chairman of the entertainment committee, has arranged an interesting program.

Tuesday evening of last week a sort of Round Table meeting of the members of the Fairview Farms Association met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Folsom to discuss forms of leasing and leases. Dr. Wherry led in the meeting. Walter Young of the Newport Heights tract gave several valuable pointers as to what should be in and what should be left out of leases. After a general discussion by any who wished to take part, the question was pretty thoroughly gone over and all felt they would at least know what to guard against.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Baker entertained a party of friends Monday. In the evening they attended the soldiers' band concert at Balboa, afterward holding a wienner bake on the beach at Newport. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Blodgett, Mr. and Mrs. Clisdon, of Donner Grove, Ill., and Mrs. Albert Smith of Newport.

Will Stearns and family enjoyed a picnic trip to Laguna last Sunday, where they saw the Utah soldier boys on their tramp.

Mrs. J. K. Horne, who is a patient at the Loma Linda sanatorium, is expected home the latter part of this week, much improved in health.

Thursday of this week being the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Leonard Swales, she, with Mr. Swales, expects to celebrate the event with a few days' trip to Los Angeles.

The Friday Afternoon Club of Newport Heights will meet at the home of Mrs. Dan Reich this week.

Another Red Cross Room. Mr. Rochester, who has already given the use of one room in his house for Red Cross work, has now given another, which will be used as a sewing room, the first one to be used exclusively for surgical dressing work. This will give all ladies who do not care for the surgical work a chance to work at sewing. Mrs. Drigger of Balboa is chairman of this work and by Friday afternoon of next week the work room will be ready for occupancy and work on hand to do.

Mrs. H. B. Woodrough has donated her machine for a time. Mr. Rochester has also offered to donate one outfit, consisting of long-sleeved apron and head dress, for the surgical dressing room, so if any lady should come without apron, she could be provided.

Mr. Rochester has shown such splendid spirit in this work, the ladies of the community should show their appreciation of his efforts by filling both these rooms every work day.

Bouquet for U. S. Officer. The bond of brotherhood and sincere feeling between the French people and the Americans, especially our American soldiers, was touchingly demonstrated at Balboa last Monday evening when Lieutenant-Colonel Webb was presented with a bouquet by Mr. Volke and family, who are French residents of Fairview Farms. Colonel Webb very fittingly spoke of this tribute and gave his word that the Utah artillery would do their best to bring about a victory and permanent peace when they should be placed on the battlefields of France.

WIDOWED MOTHER GIVES THREE HEROIC SONS. LONDON, June 5.—The name of Bradford took on even more luster and a widowed mother already deprived of two brave sons, gave up a third boy when Lieutenant Commander Bradford of the British Navy was killed in the Zebrugge raid.

The naval officer son deliberately sacrificed himself in an attempt to fasten one of the landing planks to the mole. In the full glare of searchlights and star shells he leaped to the parapet of the mole and sat astride it, trying to get the planks into place. Many machine guns were sweeping the parapet, and it was only a few seconds until he was shot dead.

Mrs. Bradford's most noted son was Brigadier General Bradford, the youngest general in the British army. He had won the Victoria cross for extreme bravery and became a general at the age of 24. He was killed shortly after making a speech to his men just before they attacked. The speech has been printed in every Allied language.

Another son, an army lieutenant, also was killed in France. He held the military cross, a decoration won through bravery.

Captain Bradford, who has been made a member of the Distinguished Service order in recognition of his services, is still in France. He is the widow's last boy.

SOUTHERN MEMORIAL

Daughters of Confederacy Decorate Confederate Graves

Monday, June 3rd, was Jefferson Davis' birthday, a date always observed by the Daughters of the Confederacy as the Confederate Memorial day. In the morning the local chapter of the Daughters held a brief memorial service at the cemetery, and flowers were strewn upon the graves of all the Confederate dead who are sleeping there.

At noon, a genuine, old-fashioned southern dinner was served at the Spurgeon Memorial church—chicken and corn bread, of course, and all the other delicious southern dishes cooked as only the women of the South can cook them. The dinner was given by the Daughters to the veterans who wore the gray, and to their families and friends. Toasts were given by Mrs. Victor Montgomery and Horace Head.

After dinner, in the auditorium, a program was given. Among its very enjoyable features were vocal solos by Mrs. Charles Johnson and Miss Louise Montgomery, organ solos by Miss Hester Covington, and readings by Miss Minnie Terrill and Miss Laura Taylor.

Jewish Soldiers Entertained by Jewish Families

Mr. and Mrs. I. Troub, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hurwitz and Mr. and Mrs. M. Karp entertained last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Karp three Jewish soldier boys. The house was beautifully decorated, the table set with some of the most tasty Jewish dishes. The homelike feeling and the good music was more than enjoyed by the welcome guests. It was a delightful affair and in the words of the boys, "Santa Ana will long be remembered." Singing of the "Star-Spangled Banner" and the "Marseillaise," led by Miss Gertrude Karp, preceded the dinner, and needless to say the dinner was most heartily enjoyed. The ladies presented the soldiers with souvenir gifts which were highly appreciated.

Belle Rogers W. C. T. U.

Belle Rogers W. C. T. U. had its regular monthly program yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fanny Lash. The meeting was in charge of Mrs. T. Johnson, on "Flower Mission." About fifty bouquets of beautiful flowers were distributed in the Santa Ana Hospital, also among the sick in the homes.

Mrs. Mills, county organizer, gave a most helpful talk, her subject being "Echoes From the State Convention at Bakersfield." One of the ladies who entertained two soldier boys gave each of them a W. C. T. U. army bag. The Belle Rogers W. C. T. U. will have just one more meeting at the Lash home. For the summer months the members will meet at the Army.

The Women's Missionary Society of the United Presbyterian church will hold its meeting tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. M. Smart. It was postponed from today on account of the regimental review.

What to Do When Backache Comes On
"Foley Kidney Pills have done me more good than $150.00 worth of other medicine." Chas. N. Fox, Himrod, N. Y.

When backache comes on and it seems as if you can't stand the pain and pressure across the small of your back, hurry to your drug store and get relief through a box of Foley Kidney Pills. They will stop the cause of that pain very quickly, spur the sluggish kidneys to regular action, enable them to throw the poisons out of the blood. They will get rid of pain and rheumatism for good, soothe your nerves, stop your backache, and limber up your stiff joints and sore muscles.

Frank W. Sherman, Lacona, N. Y., writes: "I suffered with kidney trouble, had a tired feeling in my back, did not have any ambition and felt all tired out. I used Foley Kidney Pills and in a few days began to feel better, and now I have entirely recovered."

NEWS IN BRIEF FORM

While attending his preliminary hearing at Los Angeles on a charge of defrauding Mrs. Anna Walters, a wealthy widow of Anaheim, out of considerable property, George H. Fox was placed under arrest on an embezzlement charge brought by Mrs. Walters. At the same time his automobile, which was standing outside the court house, was attached in a civil suit. Fox was released on bond and his examination will be resumed next Monday.

Former resident of New Jersey, Connecticut and Rhode Island may attend the annual summer picnic reunion in Sycamore Grove Park, Los Angeles, Saturday, June 15.

Friends and acquaintances of Dr. S. R. Oppenheim, who, several years ago, was employed at the Southern California sugar factory and lived on South Sycamore street, will be interested to learn that he is now employed by one of the largest chemical concerns at a factory in the county of Hammond, Indiana. This factory alone employs over a thousand people. Dr. Oppenheim helped launch the help products company of Long Beach, Taylor.

J. C. Metzgar, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, is able to sit up for a time each day, as he is convalescent after an attack of typhoid fever. His physician permits him to have a limited number of callers every day, but it will perhaps be two weeks before he is able to be at his office.

SANTA ANA, CALIFORNIA, WEDNESDAY EVENING, JUNE 5, 1918

MME. SCHUMANN HEINK CHARMS AUDIENCE FOR RED CROSS

Wonderful, Famed Singer
Sways Hearers to Tears
and to Laughter

PINCHED HERE, SHE REFERS TO SPEEDING

Concert In Santa Ana By the Great Contralto In Every Way Big Success

Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink, world famous, traveling yesterday afternoon by automobile from San Diego to Santa Ana, stopped for a brief hour in Santa Ana and for three-quarters of that hour sang at Clune's theater to many hundreds of people. All those many hundreds of people feel the richer for Madame's gracious visit and the Santa Ana chapter of the Red Cross is many hundreds of dollars richer because of her generosity.

Mme. Schumann-Heink was introduced by Colonel Webb of the 145th First (Utah) Field Artillery.

By Col. Webb

Col. Webb was very warmly greeted.

"When I rode into Santa Ana at the head of my regiment a few hours ago," he said, "I didn't know that I soon would be called upon to perform. But I have the very great pleasure of introducing to you a wonderful woman. Whenever and wherever there is a patriotic work to be done, she is, as we army men say, 'always on the job.' Our work in the army requires us to do our bit. That is according to the regulations. But in the case of this great woman, it is not a matter of regulations—it is a desire always to do more than her bit. Soon after you have heard her, he will be on her way across to sing to our soldiers in France. I now introduce to you Madame Schumann-Heink, the mother of the army."

The warmth of Mme. Schumann-Heink's reception should leave no doubt in her mind that Santa Ana is enrolled unanimously among her devoted admirers. After the applause at the close of her first song Madame smiled her wonderful smile, and remarked to her audience, "If you like my singing, I hope you won't pinch me any more—you owe me $10 still, poor me! Maybe now if you had not taken away my $10 it would be for the Red Cross!" Madame's rich laugh rang out as her hearers responded to the joke—for it is a matter of record that the great singer once upon a time traveled through Santa Ana at a speed incompatible with Judge Cox's well known ideas as to what is correct, and it is also a matter of record that the spongy-hearted judge fined her $10—but surely Madame could not have smiled at the judge! Madame cheerfully confessed that at the time she was mad—"oh, so mad, so very, very mad!" she declared yesterday, "but not any more—oh, no!"

Opening Number

Madame Schumann-Heink's opening number was "My Heart Ever Faithful," followed by "Danny Boy." "I hope you will love it," she remarked. "Our boys all love it so." "The Kerry Dancers" was another beautiful Irish melody with a lilting lightness that was rarely exquisite. Madame very graciously complied with a request for the Rosary, which her golden voice makes a joy to be treasured in memory.

"When the Boys Come Home" brought forth tears that lie so near the surface now with all those whose boys are "over there"—and with those who wish they had boys to send. While she was singing the soldier song, a very small maiden, somewhere about three summers old, very blonde and blue-eyed, with short white skirts and a pink sweater, wandered calmly in from the wings. The very small maiden in no way suffered from stage fright. She touched the piano keys lightly once or twice with a tiny finger, investigated the palms and ferns that decorated the stage, then took up her station beside Madame Schumann-Heink and gazed placidly at the audience while the song was sung. Her presence in no way disturbed the singer. She smiled a warmer smile, and laid her hand on the golden head for a moment, for the wee maiden is one of her many grandchildren and is a specially privileged character.

The good old "Star Spangled Banner" closed the program—sung as Santa Ana has never heard it sung before. There is nothing left to be said about Schumann-Heink's voice that has not been said before—it is rich with tears and with laughter, with the wonderful depth of a cathedral organ and the airy lightness of fairy bells. And with it, there is a personality as rich and varied and as magnetic as the great voice itself.

Madame's Address

At the end of her program, Madame made a wonderful little speech.

"It is wonderful, this Red Cross," she said. "I wish I could make you know how wonderful it is—and how wonderful are our boys—how I love them! Not even their parents, and those who know and love them best, know how very wonderful they are—such high courage, such morality, such deep religion! It makes us all one family, this war—your boys and my boys and all the boys across the water. I have three of them in the navy and one in the artillery—but they are now your boys too, as yours are mine. It is very splendid for me now that I am not young any more—for if I were young, I should have but one husband, or one sweetheart—perhaps!—but now—I have the greatest honor that can be given to a woman—they call me mother—and I have one hundred thousand sons! Never tire of giving whatever the Red Cross asks of you. It means that your boys will have some little comforts when they go over there, someone from home to nurse them when they are sick and someone from home who loves them to close their eyes—if they must die!"

Edward McWilliams was responsible for the arrangements that brought Madame Schumann-Heink to Santa Ana and the local arrangements were made by Messrs. McWilliams, Clarence A. Gustlin and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Schlesinger. Mr. Gustlin's piano was loaned.

Referring again to the fact that once upon a time Madame Schumann-Heink paid a fine of $10 to Justice Cox, let it be said that the madame has completely forgiven Justice Cox, for yesterday she was told that Justice Cox had bought ten tickets to her concert.

"That's fine," said she, "for now I've got my money back and it is for the Red Cross!"

The concert cleared $536 for the Red Cross.

HUNTINGTON BEACH 197 VOTERS ASK ABOLITION OF BEACH CITY MANAGER

41 Per Cent of Spring Vote
at Huntington Beach Sign
Petition to Council

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 5.—The city council met in regular session Monday evening, called to order at 8:20 p. m. by President French. After the reading and approval of minutes of previous meeting there was considerable discussion relative to allowing a bill of $20 for sundry accounts contracted by the schools and Chamber of Commerce during a previous community event, from the promotion fund. The account was finally allowed, and also $125 allowed the band. G. S. Bergey was appointed marshal for a period of two weeks while the regular marshal, J. Tinsley, was away on a vacation. A sample guard for the globes on the pier was purchased, and in the near future the pier light globes will be protected from the careless fishers who are constantly breaking them. A petition containing 197 signatures was presented to the council for their action relative to abolishing the office of city manager. The petition contained 41 per cent of the votes cast at the spring election in April, while 15 per cent was sufficient for demanding action by the council. It is thought the council will pass the ordinance without calling an election.

Brief Beach Notes

City Clerk Charles R. Nutt and family and City Marshal J. Tinsley left early Wednesday morning for a two weeks' trip about Independence and Bishop in Inyo county. Mr. Tinsley's family are at Manzanar spending the summer and he will stop with them for a while.

Mrs. L. C. Yooman of Anaheim, county president of the W. C. T. U., gave a very interesting talk at the local union in the M. E. church parlors this afternoon, entitled "Echoes from the State Convention." The local union has recently made thirty-four comfort bags for the soldiers and sailors and are doing a good work along that line.

Boat numbered 1416 from San Pedro was seining within a few hundred feet of the local pier here Tuesday, and it does seem that this kind of lawlessness should be stopped. What about it, Mr. Game Warden? Fishing at the municipal pier has been very good for some time past. Halibut, bass, herring, smelt and surf have been caught in goodly numbers.

JAY B. TAYLOR AMONG FIRST. NOW VETERAN

Santa Ana High School Graduate Writes Letter From the French Front

Among the first of Pershing's regiments to land in France was the Second Engineers, and in Company B, Second Engineers, First Battalion, was Corporal Jay B. Taylor, who graduated from Santa Ana high school in 1913.

The Register has just received a letter from him, reading as follows: "B Company, Second U. S. Engineers, First Battalion, A. E. F., May 5, 'Santa Ana Daily Register."

"Dear Home Paper: I just can't help dropping you a few lines as I have just received a bundle of Registers that mother sent me.

"I have read them all. I was interested in the patriotic editions, as many of the articles were, also as to the whereabouts of my old friends and classmates of the Santa Ana high school and Orange county.

"It certainly did me a lot of good to learn about all of the boys that I graduated with in '13, as I had lost account of most of them since I left Orange county, but I have often thought of them and of the good old days spent in the S. A. H. S., which were glorious days.

"Shortly after the United States declared war, I felt the call of my country and joined the colors, enlisting in the engineer department and was sent to fill up the Second Regiment, which had just come out of Mexico and was stationed at El Paso, Texas.

ans, so to speak,) realized it, a young America, in khaki, had come to us, steadily increasing the pressure, already great, on the kaiser, until now, with the increasing rapidity of our forces, it will certainly cause him to give way.

"And during all these busy and exciting times my thoughts have often wandered back to those good old days spent in Orange county and I have thought of the boys as they were then and knew they had the true stuff in them that the country now needs and would respond to the call. After reading about them, I am doubly assured of it, as I noticed that those who are not already over here are receiving their training preparatory to coming.

"I will say that all of them will be welcomed, as all of us were, by our allies. It certainly puts new courage into us and doubly assures us, that we will win, to see that America and every individual is behind us, heart and soul, and we will show our appreciation of what they are doing for us, by doing our level best over here.

"I have met one fellow that went to S. A. H. S. He was in an ambulance train and I also came near to where Malcom Tedford was, but did not get to see him, but I am looking forward to meeting more of the boys, since so many must be here ere this.

"In regard to news, nothing much can be said, only that we have become quite accustomed to this country and its ways, are quite contented, taking things as they come. We are used to sudden explosions, have almost become webfooted on account of so much rain and mud and are getting fed well, and lots of clothes to wear, and lastly but not least, plenty of good old American smoking tobacco, which is all any soldier could wish for. We had trouble at first getting American smoking tobacco. In fact it was not over here to buy, but now the folks at home are wise and the commissaries and Y. M. C. A.'s have it to sell, so we are kept well supplied, but the first tobacco that came to our outfit could be sold for from 5 to 25 francs per sack and cigarettes were out of the question.

"Well, I had better bring this to a close or the censor may get tired and drop it in the waste basket.

"Though I did not enlist in Orange county, I would like to have the honor of adding one more star to those 155 in the S. A. H. S. flag, as I know of no better bunch to be registered with than members of the old S. A. H. S. Hoping to return to the good old States Units in the very near future, I remain,

CORPORAL JAY B. TAYLOR, 13B.

NEIGHBORING NEWS

Sunny Southland In Brief

PORTERVILLE.—According to statements from officials of the Alfalfa Growers' Association, $20 has been set as the price for alfalfa hay until further notice. In view of the shortage of fodder and the bad condition of the range, the officials of the association believe this price to be considerably lower than might be warranted by conditions. The supply is not expected to be equal to the demand throughout the season, and heavy importations may be needed later in the fall.

SAN BERNARDINO.—Andrew Overstreet, aged 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Overstreet of Colton, was drowned in a pond near the Santa Fe pre-cooling plant. The body was recovered.

BRAWLEY.—Thirty-seven cars of cantaloupes, the first large consignment, has moved out of Imperial Valley, all but six headed for eastern cities. To date a total of sixty-eight cars have been sent out of the valley. The warm weather during the last two days has hastened ripening, and it is believed that the "100-car day" is only a week off.

New York continues the best customer for cantaloupes, taking six cars. To Chicago four cars were sent. Los Angeles took one car. At this date last year the first car had not been sent forward.

PORTERVILLE.—Lester J. Skidmore, foreman in a newspaper office here, is lying dangerously ill as the result of eating home-made ice cream. Mrs. Skidmore was also made violently ill, but has nearly recovered, while two children in the family were ill for a few hours. The poison is supposed to have been induced by a poisonous substance generated from the solder in the freezer, which had not been used for several months.

SANTA MONICA.—A sea-hare, a marine invertebrate unknown in Southern California waters, was caught in Santa Monica bay by A. K. Muller, who picked the fish up from the surface of the water under the impression that it was a blue rubber ball.

With the discovery that the object was alive it was turned over to Professor Knapp of the Santa Monica high school, who pronounced it to be a sea-hare, a native of the Mediterranean and a deepwater fish. The fish was shaped like a coconut, while its small scales were almost hidden under a profuse growth of hair. Dying shortly after being taken from the water, the fish jellied, while the blue coloring of its body left an indelible imprint upon any object it touched.

EXCHANGE WILL GIVE REWARD FOR ARRESTS

Orange and Lemon Theives
Raid Orange County
Groves at Will

The Orange County Fruit Exchange is going to protect the groves of its members from raids by orange and lemon thieves and is offering a reward of $10 for the conviction of anyone guilty of an offense constituting petty larceny and $50 for an offense constituting grand larceny. It is offering such rewards in advertising carried in the Register today.

The groves of the members have been robbed right and left by thieves in automobiles. The thieves have been doing a profitable business by stealing a few oranges or lemons here and there and taking them in to Los Angeles or elsewhere and turning them into cash.

With an automobile it is an easy matter for a thief residing in Los Angeles, or more distant points to drop in to Orange county during the night and make a good haul and get away without detection.

There seems to be an organized gang going about this section and picking a few sacks here and there. At the present prices a considerable loss can be sustained by the growers. The public can assist the growers in protecting their groves by reporting suspicious characters whenever they are seen around a grove. The theft of oranges and lemons has grown to considerable proportions, according to reports in from all sections of the county.

Does His Bit at Home

While many able-bodied young men are clamoring for exemption on various grounds, it is a comfort to observe some who for various reasons are unable to pass the examinations doing their "bit" and wishing they might do more to aid the boys in the trenches doing a work denied them. Quinn Nichols was among the first examined at Fullerton and an aftermath of the typhoid fever barred him for service. He is a loyal Red Cross supporter, gives the Berrydale community club $5 each month to buy yarn, is a regular monthly subscriber to Garden Grove auxiliary and was among the first to subscribe to the Red Cross drive. He will keep up his monthly subscriptions for the duration of the war.

If her existence is made gloomy by the chronic weakness, delicate derangements, and painful disorders that afflict her sex, she will find relief and emancipation from her troubles in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. If she is overworked, nervous, or "run-down," she finds new life and strength. It's a powerful, invigorating tonic and nerve which was discovered and used by an eminent physician for many years, in all cases of "female complaints" and weaknesses. For young girls just entering womanhood; for women at the critical "change of life"; in bearing-down sensations, periodical pains, ulceration, inflammation, and every kindred ailment, the "Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine put up without alcohol—ingredients on wrapper.

If not obtainable at dealers send 10 cents to Doctor Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and he will mail trial package of the tablets.

LOS ANGELES, CAL.—"I suffered from nervous prostration for several years, trying various remedies furnished by the doctor. At last I tried Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription together with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery at the advice of a friend who had used them and had been cured, and my recovery was prompt and permanent. I cheerfully recommend Dr. Pierce's Medicines."—ROSE PARKER, 720 So. Grand Avenue.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NEWS NOTES FROM ORANGE CITY

ORANGE, June 5.—Protests against the proposed street lighting system were presented to the city council at its meeting and caused an adjournment of the hearing of protests until Thursday evening while the council considers the matter. Meanwhile action on the lighting system is delayed until that date with the possibility that the project may be completely blocked.

An attempt was made by Trustee F. E. Halman to have the poorest overruled and the work of lighting ordered. Trustees Gunther and Anderson opposed the move and there was no second to Halman's motion. Then on Gunther's motion for adjournment of the hearing until Thursday evening, Anderson seconded, and the motion was passed by roll call vote, Halman voting against it.

The protest, which contained about forty-five names, representing 4206 feet of frontage out of 11,150 in the proposed lighting district, objected to the light system on the grounds that the president has strongly recommended that improvements not absolutely necessary be postponed until after the war, that the government urges and begs every loyal citizen to purchase bonds and thrift stamps, that the Red Cross needs every spare penny, and that in view of these things the signers judge it un-American and disloyal to spend money for purely ornamental purposes. It stated that many of the signers were foregoing even the necessities of life to do their bit.

Mrs. Mary Meier and daughter, Miss Anna Meier, entertained at dinner in honor of Mrs. Meier's birthday anniversary. Their home at McPherson was prettily decorated for the occasion.

The dinner guests included Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grote, Miss Minnie Grote, Miss Mary Grote, Mrs. Alfred Huhn children, Mr. and Mrs. August Dusen, Mrs. Burke and daughter, Mrs. F. A. Grote and daughter, Rev. and Mrs. N. F. Jensen, Mrs. E. A. Stone, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Stone, Mr. and Mrs. D. Bogart and children, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meier and Mr. and Mrs. P. G. West and son of Sacramento.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. King and daughter have returned home from Malone, Utah. Mr. King was enjoying a two-weeks' vacation on his ranch near there. Mrs. King and daughter, who have been making their home there, will remain in Orange for an indefinite period.

Enoch Cornelison of Villa Park, who left for Camp Lewis April 26 with a local draft contingent, is one of four members of the contingent who have been transferred from that camp to an eastern cantonment.

OLD GLORY DOLL DRESS BRINGS PATRIOTIC FIRE

SACRAMENTO, June 4.—His eyes aflame, a little boy dashed into Governor Stephens' office the other day carrying a small torn silk flag.

"Where's Mr. Stephens?" he inquired of Bart Greer, the governor's messenger.

"You mean the governor," inquired Greer.

"Yes, Mr. Stephens, the man who owns California."

Greer explained that the governor was not in but referred him to John C. McFarland, the governor's executive secretary.

Exhibiting the torn flag, the boy exclaimed: "Look at this; a girl done that. She was trying to make a doll's dress out of it. She ain't got no right to make a doll's dress out of the American flag."

"Who is the girl?" McFarland asked.

"She's my cousin, and I hate her like the dickens. She's some kind of a Romanian or something."

McFarland tried to explain to the boy that the girl was too young to understand that she had done wrong, but the boy's patriotism was at fever heat and he left the room disappointed.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET

Many business men think we are on the eve of a readjustment of prices on all sides. The opinion is expressed that the "red" has just about been reached, and a recession is looked for. This applies to commodities under government control as well as to those in the open market. The present high prices have materially cut down consumption and brought about hand-to-mouth buying on the part of the housewife. Naturally the merchant follows this precedent of curtailed stocks, which lessens the demand all along the line, which in turn produces a dull market, according to authorities on the subject.

Men who travel state that in the East especially there is a growing sentiment that shoes and clothing come under the head of necessities, more especially in the colder climates, and feel that they should be bought.

Tomatoes are getting cheap, with the increased shipments from the Imperial valley selling yesterday at $1.65 per crate. Outdoor cucumbers are down to $1 per box.

The weather is a little better for berries, and heavier showers should be coming in now, with lower prices as a result. Cantaloupes are down in prices to $2.25, and up in the standards to $4.25 per crate. Summer squash is quoted at $1 per box and $1.25 per lug.

550 WORTH OF 'EATS' ARE TAKEN FROM BEACH CAFE

$25 Reward Offered For Conviction of Thieves Taking Ham, Bacon, Eggs

NEWPORT BEACH, Cal., June 5.—The Standard Cafe, located in the Parker block, was burglarized Saturday night or Sunday morning and a quantity of provisions amounting to about $50 was taken by the thieves, according to the report made to the police officials by the proprietor, Thomas V. Longmore. Entrance was gained through a window in the rear by tearing out a screen. The loot included about fifty pounds of fresh meat, six dozen eggs, smoked ham and bacon. No clue as to the identity of the burglars has as yet been discovered by the authorities, but a reward of $25 has been offered by the owner for their arrest and conviction.

HUGH McMILLAN'S CAR STOLEN While attending the reception of the 145th Utah Artillery at Balboa Monday evening, Hugh McMillan's Ford touring car was stolen. After a search Tuesday morning, the car was located near the boulevard just across the Santa Ana river bridge on the old county road and according to the speedometer had been driven about ten miles. Finger prints on the windshield may lead to the arrest of the parties who took the machine, who were evidently bent on a joy ride at the owner's expense.

PITTSBURG HOUSEWIFE Tells How Hard Working Women May Keep Well and Strong

The reason Vinol was so successful in Mrs. Croker's case is because it contains the very elements needed to build up a weakened, run-down system, make rich red blood and create strength.

Stomach Troubles Since Childhood PERUNA Made Me Well

$1350 and $1625 f. o. b. Racine

This Six at $1350 Is Too Great a Value to Last

It is the greatest value in the Light Six field today. The output is restricted, as with all cars this year. Costs are still advancing, so prices may go higher. We urge all interested people to see this new car now.

An Impressive Car

This new Mitchell Light Six has 120-inch wheelbase and a 40-horsepower motor.

It is long and low and roomy. The lines are exquisite. The body is built, finished and upholstered with unusual luxury in the new Mitchell body plant. It is the handsomest Six of the season.

The motor is a high-speed Six, very economical. And Mitchell Sixes have a world-wide fame.

In the past year the over-strength standards have been vastly increased in this car. Experts in endurance have studied every part.

The equipment includes many unusual features. And this is the only Light Six with shock-absorbing springs.

We Get But a Few

Our allotment on this car is small. War-time conditions force a restricted production. Materials are hard to get, and prices are still rising.

The demand this year for a car like this is bound to exceed the supply—and probably twice over.

A man who expects to buy any Six this year should make a decision early. Until the war ends, there is no probability of a value like this again.

Mitchell D-40 has a 120-inch wheelbase and a 40-horsepower motor. The Touring Car price is $1350 at factory.

Mitchell C-42 has a 127-inch wheelbase and a 48-horsepower motor. The Touring Car price is $1625 at factory.

There are 16 new-style bodies.

Danger Lurks at the Roadside Every Time You Pass a Car

You need the bright side-light of the McKee to guide you safely.

There's the edge of the road, the ditch, the bank—all showing up clearly in the bright side-light of the McKee Standard Lens. You don't guess where the ditch is—you know. The side-light is always bright for you don't use dimmers with the McKee—the lens that keeps within the law by keeping the light down on the road where you need it.

McKee Standard LENS

You know the dangers of night driving, especially on strange roads. Why then use a device that must reduce the strength of the light in order to be legal? You need all the light you can get—all of the time. And you get it in the all-glass, crystal-clear McKee Lens—the only lens with a concave-convex shape. Its intense road-beam searches the road for 600 feet ahead.
